2025 Business Report

In 2025, global political and economic volatility intensified, with changes in U.S. tariff policies, along with fluctuations in the New Taiwan dollar against the U.S. dollar, having a pronounced impact on export-oriented technology industries. Although seasonal demand was not as robust as in previous years, overall performance continued to demonstrate AUO's operational resilience. This was supported by front-loaded shipments of consumer electronics in the first half of the year, channel inventory replenishment, and the Company's proactive adjustments to its operating plans in response to market conditions. For the full year, AUO reported annual revenue of NT$281.4 billion, representing a 0.4% increase compared to 2024. The Company also returned to profitability, posting a net profit of NT$6.8 billion, compared with a net loss in the prior year.

The panel industry is currently undergoing a rapid shift from “scale-driven competition” to “value-driven competition.” Competitive advantage is no longer defined solely by production capacity, but increasingly by technological innovation, market application capabilities, and the ability to deliver comprehensive solutions. In response to these structural changes, AUO initiated its “biaxial transformation” strategy in 2020. Building on this foundation, the Company has redefined its corporate positioning: AUO is no longer solely a panel supplier, but a display-centric solution provider focused on three core operating pillars of “Display”, “Mobility Solutions”, and “Vertical Solutions”. This strategic adjustment reflects years of forward-looking planning and proactive management of cyclical volatility and industry restructuring risks. It also represents the Company's fundamental growth strategy as it enters the next decade of development.

Three Core Operating Pillars Fully Established with Tangible Results

Through years of ecosystem development, AUO has completed the acquisition of automotive Tier 1 supplier BHTC^(Note 1), invested in industrial PC company ADLINK^(Note 2), and formed a strategic partnership with ePaper leader E Ink^(Note 3), thereby building a co-creation ecosystem characterized by high technological barriers and strong collaborative capabilities. In 2025, the Company formally integrated and optimized its organizational structure around the three pillars.

exterior of AFEELA^(Note 4) electric vehicle. Mass production is expected to commence in 2026.

AUO's 64-Inch Transparent Micro LED Display received the "Best Micro LED-Based Technology" award at SID 2025. It features high transparency, 1,000 nits of brightness, and supports seamless tiling for flexible expansion across various applications.

Micro LED represents the most important growth engine within the Display segment. Its high brightness, superior transparency, and stretchable characteristics create broad opportunities in display applications. Beyond traditional display use cases, its highly integrated architecture enables the combination with various sensor components and can be extended to applications such as Co-Packaged Optics (CPO), enhancing energy efficiency and computing performance in AI data centers.

Deepening Presence in the High-End LCD Market: The Company introduced several advanced display solutions, including Eco-Friendly low-power FSC (Field Sequential Color) LCDs, HiRaso ChLCDs, privacy displays for IT applications, and ultra-large curved automotive display systems. These products have received strong recognition from both domestic and international customers. AmLED technology has been widely adopted in gaming and automotive panels, offering high brightness, high contrast, and low power consumption to meet the demands of premium market segments. Through continuous technological upgrades, AUO has not only strengthened its market position but also enhanced its product premiumization capabilities.

2. Mobility Solutions: Accelerated Transformation and a Key Growth Engine

In 2024, AUO completed the acquisition of BHTC, gaining globally leading technologies in Human-Machine Interface (HMI) and climate control systems, and officially advancing into the ranks of Tier 1 automotive suppliers. During 2025, this acquisition strengthened AUO's strategic relationships with major OEM automakers across Europe, the United States, and Japan, while enhancing order visibility through secured project pipelines. These developments have significantly improved operational stability over the next three years.

Following a period of organizational restructuring and integration of systems and resources, AMSC^(Note 5) officially commenced operations in January 2026. Operating as an independent subsidiary enables greater focus on the automotive market while leveraging the advantages of five major global manufacturing bases in Germany, Bulgaria, Mexico, China, and India. This diversified footprint helps mitigate geopolitical risks and strengthen localized supply capabilities. In particular, products manufactured at the Mexico facility qualify for zero tariffs under the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA), reducing the impact of current trade barriers.

As a core growth driver, the Mobility Solutions business will focus on three key technologies: Visual, Computing, and Connectivity (Vehicle-to-Everything, V2X). By integrating Micro LED display technology, Reflectionless technology, INVISY invisible display technology, Glass-Substrate, and other technologies, we are committed to providing high-quality, cost-effective solutions for our customers.

improve driving safety. The Company remains committed to delivering differentiated smart cockpit solutions that help shape the future of mobility.

3. Vertical Solutions: Expanding Multi-Application Value Chains and Driving Growth

Smart Retail Development: Leveraging its hardware and software integration capabilities, ADP^(Note 6) launched the Retail Cloud Platform, enabling customers to implement cloud-based management solutions that address labor shortages and operational efficiency challenges. In 2025, ADP announced the establishment of a joint venture with E Ink, under which AUO will serve as the manufacturing partner. By combining E Ink’s material expertise with AUO’s display manufacturing capabilities, a large-size color ePaper production line is being constructed in Longtan. Amid the global net-zero trend, AUO is advancing its dual ePaper technologies of electrophoretic display (EPD) and cholesteric liquid crystal (HiRaso) in combination with next-generation energy-efficient LCD and LED solutions to develop a comprehensive ESG-oriented display product portfolio. Going forward, the Company will further integrate artificial intelligence (AI) technologies and collaborate with partners in smart retail and public display applications to jointly pursue greener and smarter long-term ESG objectives.

Deepening Presence in Healthcare Applications: Building on its core display technologies, ADP has secured more than 30% market share in professional medical display panels, ranking first in the market. The Company continues to deliver high-resolution, high-contrast, ultra-high-brightness, and low-reflection wide-color-gamut panels, maintaining its technology leadership. In the X-ray sensing segment, AUO is expanding the application of its Indium Gallium Zinc Oxide (IGZO) technology platform to enhance diagnostic safety and precision. At the same time, the Company is actively developing smart healthcare solutions through cross-sector collaboration among industry, government, and academia. Together with ecosystem partners, AUO has introduced multiple solutions, including 3D Microsurgery Imaging Solution, Neuronavigation-guided Focused Ultrasound System, and TCM Digital Detection Solution. Through close collaboration with strategic partners, AUO continues to build a comprehensive smart healthcare ecosystem and provide customers with integrated medical application solutions.

Enterprise and Education Applications: ADP, together with its subsidiaries Avacor^(Note 7), Jector^(Note 8), and Rise Vision^(Note 9), focus on developing integrated hardware and software solutions centered on display technologies for smart education and enterprise applications, building a comprehensive global commercial service platform. Its offerings include interactive flat-panel display, direct-view LED displays, and digital signage hardware, complemented by intelligent software solutions designed with optimized human factors in mind. These services encompass smart software deployment, remote device management, content sharing, touch-based annotation, and meeting room environmental control. Working alongside ecosystem partners, AUO continues to promote next-generation display solutions across smart education and enterprise environments.

- Display and Industrial PC (IPC) Integration: In 2025, to strengthen resource integration and operational synergies, AUO incorporated ADLINK as a consolidated subsidiary. This strategic move supports AUO's transition from a traditional panel supplier to a provider of intelligent AIoT solutions. By leveraging ADLINK's leading c "H D

In response to climate change, AUO achieved a dual “A” rating in both Climate Change and Water Security from CDP in 2025, underscoring international recognition of its environmental leadership. Since responding to CDP in 2007, AUO has progressively enhanced its carbon management practices, including implementing a Product Carbon Footprint Management System and integrating product lifecycle carbon data. The Company has implemented internal carbon pricing and carbon credit trading mechanisms, advanced building carbon neutrality initiatives, and became an early adopter of ISO 14068 carbon neutrality certification. In addition, AUO established a Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) working group to identify and manage global sustainability-related risks and opportunities, aligning its governance framework with international standards.

In water resource management, the Company has introduced AI-enabled Internet of Things (IoT) technologies to enhance water recycling and reuse efficiency. Process water recycling rate reached 94.7%, and AUO earned Taiwan’s first ISO 46001 certification. Through its subsidiary AET ^(Note 10), AUO offers one-stop green solutions to enterprise customers, amplifying AUO’s sustainability influence across industries.

Looking ahead, AUO will continue to drive the net-zero transition through technological innovation and data governance, strengthening environmental resilience across its operations and value chain—positioning itself as a key force in Taiwan’s journey toward the national 2050 net-zero goal.

Outlook for 2026: Challenges and Opportunities

Looking ahead to 2026, the global macroeconomic environment is expected to move toward more stable growth. However, uncertainties remain, including international trade disputes and regional conflicts. In addition, the global consumer electronics market continues to face variables stemming from AI-related inflationary pressures and soft demand, which may affect the pace of industry recovery. In the Display sector, demand for high-end panels is expected to increase, buoyed by the end of support for Windows 10, the AI PC replacement cycle, and major international sport events such as the World Cup. These factors are anticipated to contribute to a cyclical recovery in the display industry. With the formal launch of AMSC operations, the Company will directly serve automotive manufacturers. Strong order visibility for smart cockpit solutions is expected to drive new revenue and profitability milestones. Within Vertical Solutions, particularly in healthcare and retail applications, the successful ramp-up of joint venture production lines and the integration of ADLINK are expected to accelerate diversified solution offerings. Revenue contribution from Vertical Solutions businesses is projected to increase steadily, forming a structurally stable source of profitability.

In the coming years, the three pillars of Display, Mobility Solutions, and Vertical Solutions will progressively demonstrate the results of AUO’s transformation. Revenue contribution from Mobility Solutions and Vertical Solutions is expected to exceed 50% over time, with non-panel businesses becoming the primary driver of the Company’s profit structure. Although transformation-related expenses have increased in the near term, as they are driven by Micro LED research and development, facility revitalization, and post-acquisition integration, these cost pressures are expected to gradually ease as integration synergies are realized. AUO will continue to focus on its strategic priorities of “three pillars, global deployment, and green sustainability,” moving away from the traditional image of a capacity- and price-driven panel manufacturer. The Company remains committed to strengthening its positioning as a solution provider centered on display technologies.

At every stage of its development, AUO remains guided by the long-term objective of advancing sustainable excellence. We look forward not only to expanding the boundaries of display technology, but also to working closely with all stakeholders under a shared vision of sustainability as we continuously drive innovation, enhance corporate value, and create a brighter future through collaboration and mutual success.

We have audited the parent company only financial statements of AUO Corporation (“the Company”), which comprise the balance sheets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and statements of cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, and notes to the parent company only financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirement. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis of our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the parent company only financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the parent company only financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

1. Impairment of long-term non-financial assets (including goodwill)

Refer to Note 4(14) “Impairment – non-financial assets” , Note 5(1) and Note 5(2) “Critical Accounting Judgments and Key Sources of Estimations and Assumptions Uncertainty” , Note 6(7) “Property, Plant and Equipment” , Note 6(8) “Lease Arrangements” and Note 6(10) “Intangible Assets” to the parent company only financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

The Company operates in an industry with high investment costs, has goodwill through the acquisition of subsidiaries, and may experience volatility in response to changes in the external market; hence, it is important to assess the impairment of its long-term non-financial assets (including goodwill). The impairment assessment includes identifying cash-generating units, determining a valuation model, determining significant assumptions, and computing recoverable amounts. With the complexity of the impairment assessment process and the involvement of significant management judgment regarding assumptions used, this is one of the key areas our audit focused on.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our principal audit procedures included understanding and testing the Company's controls surrounding the impairment assessment and testing process; assessing whether there are impairment indications for the identified cash-generating units of the Company and its related assets; understanding and assessing the appropriateness of the valuation model used by the management in the impairment assessment and the significant assumptions used to determine related assets' future cash flows projection, useful lives, and weighted-average cost of capital; retrospectively reviewing the accuracy of assumptions used in prior-period estimates and performing a sensitivity analysis of key assumptions and results; in addition to the above audit procedures, appointing specialists to evaluate the appropriateness of the weighted-average cost of capital used and related assumptions; performing an inquiry of the management and identifying any event after the balance sheet date if able to affect the results of the impairment assessment; and assessing the adequacy of the Company's disclosures of its policy on impairment of noncurrent non-financial assets and other related disclosures.

2. Revenue recognition

Refer to Note 4(17) "Revenue from contracts with customers" and Note 6(17) "Revenue from Contracts with Customers" to the parent company only financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

Revenue is recognized when the control over a product has been transferred to the customer as specified in each individual contract with customers. The Company recognizes revenue depending on the various sales terms in each individual contract with customers to ensure the performance obligation has been satisfied by transferring control over a product to a customer. In addition, the Company operates in an industry in which revenue is considered to be complex in determining the timing of revenue recognition. Consequently, this is one of the key areas our audit focused on.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our principal audit procedures included understanding and testing the Company's controls surrounding revenue recognition; assessing whether appropriate revenue recognition policies are applied through comparison with accounting standards and understanding the Company's main revenue types, its related sales agreements, and sales terms; on a sample basis, inspecting contracts with customers or customers' orders and assessing whether the accounting treatment of the related contracts (including sales terms) is applied appropriately; performing a test of details of sales revenue and understanding the rationale for any identified significant sales fluctuations and any significant reversals of revenue through sales discounts and sales returns which incurred within a certain period before or after the balance sheet date; and assessing the adequacy of the Company's disclosures of its revenue recognition policy and other related disclosures.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Those charged with governance (inclusive of the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identified and assessed the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtained an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
3. Evaluated the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management..
4. Concluded on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluated the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

6. Obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicated with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identified during our audit.

We also provided those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicated with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determined those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Yu, Chi-Lung and Lu, Chien Hui.

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of AUO Corporation:

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of AUO Corporation and its subsidiaries ("the Company"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, consolidated statements of changes in equity and consolidated statements of cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for each of the years then ended, in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and with the International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), International Accounting Standards ("IAS"), Interpretations developed by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee ("IFRIC") or the former Standing Interpretations Committee ("SIC") endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirement. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis of our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

1. Impairment of long term non financial assets (including goodwill)

Refer to Note 4(15) "Impairment – non financial assets" , Note 5(1) and Note 5(2) "Critical Accounting Judgments and Key Sources of Estimations and Assumptions Uncertainty" , Note 6(10) "Property, Plant and Equipment" , Note 6(11) "Lease Arrangements" , Note 6(13) "Intangible Assets" and Note 6(14) "Capitalized Contract Cost" to the consolidated financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

The Company operates in an industry with high investment costs, has goodwill through the acquisition of subsidiaries, and may experience volatility in response to changes in the external market; hence, it is important to assess the impairment of its long term non financial assets (including goodwill). The impairment assessment includes identifying cash generating units, determining a valuation model, determining significant assumptions, and computing recoverable amounts. With the complexity of the impairment assessment process and the involvement of significant management judgment regarding assumptions used, this is one of the key areas our audit focused on.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our principal audit procedures included understanding and testing the Company’ s controls surrounding the impairment assessment and testing process; assessing whether there are impairment indications for the identified cash generating units of the Company and its related assets; understanding and assessing the appropriateness of the valuation model used by the management in the impairment assessment and the significant assumptions used to determine related assets’ future cash flows projection, useful lives, and weighted average cost of capital; retrospectively reviewing the accuracy of assumptions used in prior period estimates and performing a sensitivity analysis of key assumptions and results; in addition to the above audit procedures, appointing specialists to evaluate the appropriateness of the weighted average cost of capital used and related assumptions; performing an inquiry of the management and identifying any event after the balance sheet date if able to affect the results of the impairment assessment; and assessing the adequacy of the Company’ s disclosures of its policy on impairment of noncurrent non financial assets and other related disclosures.

2. Revenue recognition

Refer to Note 4(18) “Revenue from contracts with customers” and Note 6(22) “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” to the consolidated financial statements.

Description of key audit matter:

Revenue is recognized when the control over a product has been transferred to the customer as specified in each individual contract with customers. The Company recognizes revenue depending on the various sales terms in each individual contract with customers to ensure the performance obligation has been satisfied by transferring control over a product to a customer. In addition, the Company operates in an industry in which revenue is considered to be complex in determining the timing of revenue recognition. Consequently, this is one of the key areas our audit focused on.

How the matter was addressed in our audit:

In relation to the key audit matter above, our principal audit procedures included understanding and testing the Company’ s controls surrounding revenue recognition; assessing whether appropriate revenue recognition policies are applied through comparison with accounting standards and understanding the Company’ s main revenue types, its related sales agreements, and sales terms; on a sample basis, inspecting contracts with customers or customers’ orders and assessing whether the accounting treatment of the related contracts (including sales terms) is applied appropriately; performing a test of details of sales revenue and understanding the rationale for any identified significant sales fluctuations and any significant reversals of revenue through sales discounts and sales returns which incurred within a certain period before or after the balance sheet date; and assessing the adequacy of the Company’ s disclosures of its revenue recognition policy and other related disclosures.

Other Matters

AUO Corporation has additionally prepared its parent company only financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, on which we have issued an unmodified audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and with the IFRS, IAS, IFRIC, SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (inclusive of the Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identified and assessed the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtained an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
3. Evaluated the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Concluded on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

5. Evaluated the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

6. Obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicated with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identified during our audit.

We also provided those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicated with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determined those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audit resulting in this independent auditors' report are Yu, Chi Lung and Lu, Chien Hui.
